First Fatality Of Strike Outcome Of Attack Of Ferry Road Mob

TENSION RELAXES

Vigilance Of Police Is Lessened As Students Cease Activity

Peking Government Yields And Accepts Resignation Of Tsao Ju-lin And Others

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 9, (Urgent).—The Government is granting the request of Tsao Ju-lin, Lu Chung-yu and Chang Chung-hsiang to resign and a mandate to that effect will be issued tomorrow.

The first death of the present strike movement in Shanghai occurred last night. Early in the evening a mob on Ferry Road, in the Gordon Road district, set upon an aged Chinese whom they accused of assisting Japanese to poison wells. The mob was dispersed by the police and the victim, who was terribly beaten, was hurried to Shantung Road Hospital, where he died at 7:50 p.m.

Despite yesterday's developments—a tie-up of railway communication and crippling of coastwise and river shipping and the telephone service of the Settlement—the strike situation has taken an optimistic turn.

The news that the resignations of Tsao Ju-lin, Lu Ching-yu and Chang Chung-hsiang have been accepted by presidential mandate has been widely circulated and the fact that the Peking Government has now acceded to the demands of the students promises to bring about a gradual restoration to normal conditions.

Banks, stores and shops are expected to open today and striking employes of steamship and railway companies are being urged to return to work. The telephone company hopes that this afternoon will see all operators at the switchboards.

Tension Is Lessened

There was a noticeable relaxation of police vigilance last night and the students have ceased to display the vigor that characterised their efforts during the past five days. It is believed that the crux of the situation has been reached, that the victory of the students and strikers over the Peking Government is the turning point of the unrest that has prevailed.

On the other hand there is danger that tramway employes will strike this morning. Telephone operators, employes of steamship and railway lines, laborers engaged in all phases of industry may not return to work.

Private telegrams received here last night report that Peking struck a few hours before the issuance of the presidential mandate accepting the resignations of pro-Japanese officials and that Tientsin also is experiencing a general strike. It is not known what the reaction will be here.

Students Seek To End Strike

Student leaders are attempting to impress upon leading merchants the necessity of a resumption of business today. The students in Peking have been released and the three wilful men have severed their connection with the government, they say.

Chinese in foreign hongs yesterday afternoon voted not to become involved in the general strike.

The situation has taken its first turn for the better since the inception of the student movement.

Some hours after the proclamation issued by the Chinese Chamber of Commerce appeared urging the

Bombs Sent By Anarchists To American Officials Who Supported Alien Legislation

Extraordinary Series Of Explosions In Homes Of Prominent Men In Eight Cities But Intended Victims Escape Injury

(Reuter's Agency War Service)

London, June 3.—There has been an extraordinary series of anarchistic bomb explosions in the United States, mostly at the residences of public officials, especially those who have been active against enemy aliens. These have done extensive damage, but the loss of life has hitherto been confined to one of the criminals and a caretaker.

The officials attacked include Attorney-General Palmer in Washington; United States District Judge Thompson in Pittsburg; the Mayor of Cleveland, Ohio; Judge Nott of New York; Congressman Powers of Newtonville, Mass.; Mr. Sibray, Chief Inspector of Immigration.

The police are now specially guarding the residences of prominent Government officials.

Movement Widespread

Washington, June 3.—The bombing outrages occurred simultaneously in eight cities. Officials interpret them as a widespread anarchistic movement to overthrow organised Government.

Handbills picked up in the vicinity of the explosions warn that a class war has begun and will cease only with the complete victory of the international proletariat.

Man's Head Found

Washington, June 3.—A man's head has been discovered on a roof 300 feet from the Attorney-General's house This and other clues are expected to lead to the apprehension of anarchist plotters, whose headquarters are believed to be in Philadelphia.

In the Senate, after speeches had been made denouncing the bomb outrages, Senator Walsh, a Democrat, re-introduced the bill which failed to pass last winter providing severer penalties for acts of violence designed to overthrow the Government.

I. W. W. Head Arrested

Washington, June 3.—The police of Pittsburg have arrested Johnson, the President of the Independent Workers of the World organisation. Johnson barricaded his house and shot at the detectives before being overpowered, without harming any of them.

ALLIES MAY GRANT MINOR CHANGES IN TERMS OF TREATY

But Conditions As Whole, It Is Believed, Will Not Be Altered

TO FIX INDEMNITY

Hundred Billion Marks May Be Made Exact Sum For Reparation

AUSTRIANS ANGRY

Report Says Government Has Decided Terms Are Unacceptable

(Reuter's Agency War Service)

Paris, June 4.—There is little expectation of the Austrian Treaty being completed during the present week. The discussion of the missing clauses will probably continue throughout the week. These will ultimately be delivered by note and no further meeting of the Austrian and Allied representatives is anticipated.

The American and Italian Delegations on Wednesday discussed the Adriatic claims and it is believed that a compromise will speedily be found.

The Council of Four continued the discussion of the German counter-proposals. It is believed that, while these as a whole will be rejected, a number of suggestions will be embodied in the Treaty, not for the purpose of softening the document but to make it workable and to achieve the supreme purpose of getting the Treaty signed and restoring peace.

Changes Suggested

Among the concrete results apparently taking form are the fixing of the reparations at the definite sum of one hundred billion marks, reducing the period of occupation on the Western frontier from 15 to 10 years and the readjustment of the Silesia demands so that the population through a plebiscite may secure self-determination.

It is understood that President Wilson has finally accepted M. Clemenceau's view to keep Germany outside the League of Nations.

Paris, June 4.—It is reported in Peace Conference circles that Noske, the German Minister for Defense, recently toured the German coast defenses and directed them to prepare for emergencies.

Germans Deny Charges

Berlin, June 4.—The German experts at Versailles have completed a memorandum on War Responsibility.

It denies that there was a secret plot in Berlin and Vienna to destroy Servia and urges the submission of the question to an impartial commission.

Paris, June 4.—The Council of Four met this morning and discussed territorial and reparation questions.

Austrians Reject Terms

Vienna, June 4.—The Austrian Government has decided unanimously that the Allied peace terms are unacceptable, according to the Neues Abendblatt.

Papers Denounce Treaty

Vienna, June 5.—The newspapers denounce the Treaty of Peace. A big protest meeting is called for Friday. Some talk of a Bolshevist regime is prevalent.

The papers show much anger against the Italians, French, Czechs and Jugo-Slavs and declare everything has been taken from Austria without regard to President Wilson's fourteen points.

Text Is Circulated

Copenhagen, June 4.—The German Government is circulating the text of the Peace Treaty throughout adjoining neutral countries.

Grant No Concessions

Paris, June 2.—The belief grows in Paris that no substantial concessions will be made to the Germans but there may be minor changes in details, making the Treaty more workable and facilitating the payment of indemnities.

President Wilson, Mr. Lloyd George and M. Clemenceau are said to be in strict accord on the subject

This Is Rough

Hearken intently!

The faint rattling sound which lightly impinges upon the eardrum is the clatter of the bones of the late Mr. Ali Babbi, which same are revolving rapidly in the tomb.

The thieves' and robbers' fraternity of Shanghai has joined the general walk-out.

"Strewth!—upon the vouchings of reliable persons, whose names are naturally withheld but who are in a position to report the happenings within the exclusive circle of society involved.

According to the report, the light-fingered community, which forms a well organised and thriving section of our composite population, has arisen in righteous abhorrence of what it considers to be a dastardly violation of moral ethics, not to say a flying in the face of all honest principles—and flatly declares that as far as pilferings and hold-ups are concerned the public can do without them and go hang until all points are gained in the strike.

A skimming through of the records of the Mixed Court for yesterday, however, give one the impression that there must be quite a lot of more or less adept highwaymen in town who don't belong to the union.

Et Tu, Calliope!

The Muses are on strike—Shanghai's 3,000 sing-song girls stand lined up on the side of the student boycotters and refuse to shrill a single syllable until the town opens up again and declare they will ban Japanese goods till Gabriel toots the last accompaniment.

Under the leadership of one of the most popular and accomplished young lady companions to the local lyre the petite entertainers of the tea shops are engaged in the organisation of a patriotic body under the romantic name of the "Blue Pavilion Salvation Society." They are pledging themselves to a program of permanent abstention from all things Japanese—no nifty Nipponese garments or ornamental embellishments shall adorn their persons, they declare, and, if needs must, they will go without powdering their noses—but on this score they hope that non-Japanese supplies of talcum will hold out.

Foochow Road, famous canyon of brilliance which is China's Great White Way, has been a dismal gully of darkness every evening since the shops closed, but more noticeable than the loss of light has been the absence of squeaking fiddle and high pitched lyricising of the "Chiao Shu."

TWO AMERICAN OFFICERS EXPELLED FROM IRELAND

Their Association With Sinn Feiners Cause Of Action Of British Government

(American Press Wireless)

London, June 5.—An American Major and a Lieutenant from the Quartermaster's Department of the American Expeditionary Force in France, who were spending their leave in Ireland, were expelled from that country on Sunday by order of the British Government as a result, it is claimed, of indiscretion and partnership with the Sinn Feiners.

RAILWAY CONSOLIDATION IN AMERICA IS PROPOSED

Wild Session In Wall Street Follows Announcement Of Washington Official

(American Press Wireless)

Washington, (by wireless), June 6.—Director-General Hines has outlined the American short line railroad problem, under which the railroads would be consolidated into from twelve to twenty great systems under Government regulations sufficiently definite to attract private capital, and affording protection to the weaker roads. The only alternative to such a regulation, he declared, would be public ownership; for under any other plan private management would be doomed to ultimate failure.

Wall Street has the wildest session since the war boom. The call on money rates shows an advance to eleven percent. Two million transactions are recorded.

LORD FRENCH'S BOOK DENOUNCED BY ASQUITH

Volume Called Flagrant Breach Of Best Traditions Of Public Service

(Reuter's Agency War Service)

London, June 3.—Mr. Asquith, speaking at a luncheon at the Connaught Rooms, denounced the book written by Field Marshal Viscount French as an ill-advised, unhappy, incomplete and partial narrative; it was a flagrant breach of the best traditions of the public service.

He declared that the charge that the Asquith Government had failed to supply sufficient artillery and ammunition was without foundation, while Lord French's reference to Lord Kitchener's visit to France was a travesty of the facts. Before that visit, Field Marshal Lord French sent a message to the Government with regard to his contemplated movements, which filled them with consternation because it amounted in effect to leaving our Allies in the lurch in the moment of their extreme need.

NEW RHENISH REPUBLIC DENOUNCED IN BERLIN

Meeting Of Heads Of State To Discuss Separatist Movement Called

(Reuter's Agency War Service)

Paris, June 2.—The Rhineland Republic has been proclaimed under President Dorden, who has chosen Wiesbaden as the Capital. He has sent a message to the representatives of the various Governments at the Peace Conference announcing the formation of the new Republic.

The German Government replied that it had instructed the prosecution for high treason of Dorten and other members of the so-called Government of the Rhenish Republic. It declares that the official acts of the new Government are null and void and urges the local population to disobey its decrees.

Report Stirs Berlin

Paris, June 2.—The Separatist movement in Germany has caused considerable agitation in Berlin where the Central Government has decided to summon the heads of the various States to a conference.

Scheidemann Is Notified

Berlin, June 3.—A semi-official communique states that Herr Scheidemann has received a despatch from "a certain Doctor Dorten" notifying him of the proclamation of the Rhenish Republic and requesting assent to the Republic's co-operation in the Peace Conference, to which it has applied for admission.

PARIS STRIKE SPREADING INTO ALL INDUSTRIES

Over Two Hundred Thousand Men And Women Idle In Central District Alone

(Reuter's Agency War Service)

Paris, June 4.—The strike is spreading in Paris and it is estimated that 500,000 persons will be out of work before the night. There have been no disorders.

Paris, June 5.—The Subway, Tramways and Omnibus employes have rejected the employers' terms and have resolved to continue the strike.

A walk-out of the laundrymen has increased the number of strikers.

Eight-Hour Day Demanded

Paris, June 3.—A strike has broken out and is spreading rapidly. Over two hundred thousand men and women are idle in the Paris district alone, including the tube employes, tram and bus conductors, artisans, mechanics and dressmakers. The grounds of dispute vary in the different occupations but generally concern the application of an eight-hour day.

Strike Movement Spreads

Paris, June 2.—Many French employers not yet having made the necessary preparations for the application of the eight-hour working day law, a large number of workmen have gone out on strike, including house painters, metal workers and men employed in the automobile, rubber and clothing industries.

Peking Views On How Shanghai Is Handling Strike

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 9.—Official telegrams from Shanghai report that the Council has ordered the expulsion of Chinese wearing boycott badges or carrying boycott flags. It is sincerely hoped in Peking that the Municipal Council is not confusing issues and is not taking measures which might lead to a general anti-foreign attitude by passive resisters who see no harm in a movement which is country-wide.

Peking fully realises that hands of rowdies cannot be permitted to create riots, but it would be calamitous if students and intelligent persons met with unnecessarily harsh measures.

GERMANS MUST UNCOVER FOR BRITISH OFFICERS

Obliged To Take Off Hats In Occupied Area, Commons Is Informed

(Reuter's Agency War Service)

London, June 3.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Mr. Josiah Wedgwood as to whether the Germans in occupied territories have to take off their hats and step off the sidewalks on meeting British officers, Mr. Winston Churchill, Secretary for War, said, amid loud cheers, that when Germans address British officers they are required to take off their hats. He saw no reason to suppose the practice would be discontinued after the signing of the Peace Treaty. This was one of the military regulations deemed suitable and appropriate to the period of occupation. The regulations were very much less severe than those which the Germans were accustomed to impose in occupied territories. He believed our regulations would bear comparison with any of the other great Powers during the war. He was not prepared to deprive the army of its rights.

Replying to a supplementary question regarding the American practice, Mr. Churchill said he was quite content to be guided by the officers responsible for the conduct of the British army, which was not likely to be unduly severe.

Neutrals Unwilling To Support Blockade, Allies Are Informed

Replies Given By Switzerland, Sweden And Denmark To Inquiry Of Entente

(Reuter's Agency War Service)

Paris, June 3.—It is stated that Sweden and Denmark have refused to participate again in the blockade of Germany in the event of a rupture necessitating its renewal.

A meeting of the Supreme Economic Council and the Allied military authorities has taken measures to prevent Germany again holding up supplies for Poland.

The Supreme Economic Council has authorised the importation into Germany of drugs and medical accessories unobtainable there.

Swiss Gives Answer

Paris, June 1.—The Swiss Government has sent the French Ambassador a reply to the Allies asking whether Switzerland would occasionally undertake to prohibit exports and re-exports in transit from or through her territory to Germany. The Swiss Government says it would be incompatible with the policy of neutrality and is therefore unable to accede to the suggestion of the Entente.

Berne, May 30.—The Swiss Council, replying to the identical notes presented by the Allies on May 19, asking Switzerland to prohibit trading with Germany in the event of the Allies being compelled to take new measures against Germany, says that it is unable to give an undertaking which will be incompatible with its neutrality.

Peking And Tientsin Go On Strike Also

Shops Close Their Doors Despite Issuance Of Mandate By Government

In spite of the issuance of a Presidential Mandate Monday accepting the resignation of Tsao Ju-lin, Lu Chung-yu and Chang Chung-hsiang, both Tientsin and Peking went on strike, according to a Peking telegram last night. Tientsin shops closed their doors Monday morning and Peking joined the movement yesterday.

Rumors are current all over the capital and people are more or less anxious about the situation. The fall of the Chien Nung-hsun Cabinet is openly advocated. Some reports say that Mr. Sun Pao-chi, head of the Revenue Department, will be asked to organise a Cabinet.

of not granting concessions to Germany.

Must Back Words

Paris, June 1.—The opinion in Paris prevails that the words of Mr. Lloyd George to Germany are true, saying: "If you do not sign the Peace Treaty at Versailles you will be made to sign it at Berlin," but justice demands that such words be backed by acts.

Rantzau's Statement

Paris, June 1.—Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau summoned the members of the German party leaving Versailles for Berlin and delivered a speech, saying:

"Tell them in Berlin I will never sign the Peace preliminaries unless they are greatly altered. Someone else may sign them but I will not."

Trouble Is Anticipated

Copenhagen, May 31.—A message from Berlin today states that apparently the Germans are anticipating trouble. Herr Noske, who previously has permitted demonstrations of protest against the Peace Terms, now proclaims that martial law will be more severely enforced and has prohibited the holding of meetings both indoors and outdoors; declaring that these meetings developed agitations endangering the State.

The Government has addressed an appeal to the Eastern Germans asking them to avoid any action that might give the enemy a pretext for invasion. The appeal states that if the counter-proposals are rejected, the Government will take the necessary decisions for the life of the German nation.

Talks Of Alliance

Paris, June 2.—The Italian Food Minister gave a dinner in Paris to the Delegations of the Supreme Economic Council attending the Peace Conference. The French Minister of Commerce delivered a speech referring to the proposed alliance of the Anglo-Saxons with France and declaring that the French nation could not dispense with a Latin alliance to watch over the Rhine and the Alps. This union, which was more than centuries old, is the natural outcome of similar national ideals.

Refers To Note Of Allies

Berlin, May 31.—According to the German Armistice Commission at Spa, the Entente yesterday presented a fresh note regarding the German troops in Lettland and Lithuania.

It says that the German forces in the Baltic Provinces must be withdrawn within a line to be marked for them. General Von der Goltz may retain the command provided he receives orders from Germany for the establishment of a Coalition Lettish Government. Their arms must be restored to the Lettish troops, whose mobilisation must not be hampered, and complete freedom must be assured the new Lettish Government.

Fifteen days is granted from June 1 for acceptance of the terms.

Plans For Consortium Outlined In Commons

Announced British Government Will Give Its Support To Project

(Reuter's Agency War Service)

London, June 4.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Sir Stuart Coats, Mr. Cecil Harmsworth stated that, on the initiative of the American Government, negotiations have been proceeding for some months for the formation of a new International Consortium for financing loans to China. The British Government would naturally fully support any British group formed to participate in such a consortium.

With regard to the Allied monopoly, His Majesty's Government, from the outset of the negotiations had made clear that there could be no question of exclusive official support to a British group unless the group was enlarged so as to render it sufficiently representative of the financial houses of good standing interested in loans to China to give no cause for criticism on the ground of intuition.

Magyar Aggression To Be Suppressed

Measures Taken To Oust Them From Slovak Territory They Have Invaded

(American Press Wireless)

Prague, June 6.—The Magyars have invaded Slovak territory in several places. The Minister of State declared in an interview that the Magyars already occupy one-third of the most fertile regions, that they steal the people's goods and cattle, plunder private property and compel the inhabitants to do military service.

After hearing the report made by the Chief of General Polle's Staff the Cabinet Council decided to take the most energetic measures with a view to the liberation of the Slovak territories invaded by the Magyars. The Minister of National Defense declared in a public assembly that in a very few days the Republic would give an energetic answer to the Magyar challenge. The Republic must at the same time show the Allies that their prestige is also at stake. If the Allies had consented to occupy the Austrian and Hungarian war factories as the Czechs asked them to do last year there would not have been any more bloodshed.

SITUATION UNCHANGED ON AFGHANISTAN FRONTS

Amir's Move For Cessation Of Fighting Has Good Effect On Tribal Situation

(Reuter's Agency War Service)

Simla, June 7.—There has been no change north of the Kabul River on the Dakka front.

Minor raids have occurred in the Peshawar district by gangs from across the border. Hindus mostly suffered.

Nadir Khan's withdrawal and the Amir's request for a cessation of hostilities is having a good effect on the tribal situation on the Khost border and the laskhars composed of the Orakzai and Zaimukht clans collected east of the Kurram are now dispersing.

The tribal enthusiasm in the Toohi Valley is waning.

The trouble from south of Waziristan has spread to Zhob and has led to risings of the Sheranns and Mandu Khel.

The withdrawal of our posts at Moghal Kot and Mirali Khel were carried out under great difficulties. The garrisons of those places are concentrated at Fort Sandeman ready to deal effectively with the local trouble and also to prevent the Sheranni disorders spreading. Further assistance has been sent to the Loralai troops. The Sherannis and Mahsuds twice attacked Braband on the Derajat border and failed in an attempt to capture Chaudh.

Messrs. J. A. Wattie And Co. Receive Letter From Their Java Office

Mail advices received by Messrs. J. A. Wattie and Co. from their Java office under date May 22 regarding the recent eruption of the volcano Kloet, are to the effect that it occurred at 1 a.m. on May 20 and was followed at 2 a.m. by a rain of ashes, mud and stones. Fortunately, the shower of stones soon stopped, but the ash rain continued and the whole country for miles around was in pitch darkness until 11 a.m.

The lip of the crater broke off, causing a flow of lava down the mountain side, which, however, was diverted from the estate proper by a spur of the mountain, and resulted in the loss of only 9 acres of rubber.

The flow of lava caused terrible havoc at Taloen, the railway station of the estate, and spread as far as Blitar, 15 miles distant.

The damage to the trees on the estate, apart from the 9 acres, was caused by the heavy ash rain, which, in the absence of wind, so loaded the branches of the trees that many of them snapped off, while others were bent to the ground. It is only a question of time for these branches to grow again, but a considerable expenditure on pruning will be necessary.

Tapping must be stopped until the ashes have settled, after which the trees and cups must be cleaned.

From telegraphic advices, subsequent to the despatch of this letter, it was learned that rain had fallen and that tapping had been resumed.

shops to open yesterday, another was distributed signed by the Commercial Confederation Association of 220 Avenue Joffre and the Public Citizens Society, adjuring merchants to keep their shops and stores closed. These were distributed by the thousands between two and four o'clock yesterday morning.

Everything was reported quiet in Central, Louza and Hongkew Districts late last nigh. The Light Horse were standing by at the Race Club, with two troopers and some of "A" Company on duty at the Town Hall. The Customs Company relieved the Portuguese Company at Hongkew station at midnight.

Two Japanese were injured, one of them seriously, by a crowd on Rue Ratard, near the Country Club, last night. They were dressed in Chinese clothes, attacked by a crowd and were rescued by Annamite policemen after a struggle. One was sent to the hospital.

Transport Lines Paralysed

Complete paralysis of the Shanghai-Nanking and Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo railroad lines as well as the crippling of coastwise shipping were the impressive results of the activity of agitators on labor here yesterday. One train left for Nanking yesterday morning and one train left Nanking for Shanghai. As soon as the trains reached their respective destinations, enginemen, firemen and trainmasters struck, to resume work when business in Shanghai is restored to normal. Clerks, ticket sellers and inspectors quit work in the afternoon.

British and Chinese coastwise steamers are held up by strikes, the wharf coolies at Hongkew Wharf and 1,000 coolies employed on Nippon Yusen Kaisha have left work and the unrest threatens to involve all steamship lines, both Chinese and foreign. Pickets attempted to interfere with transfer of cargo at Foochow Road Jetty yesterday and were dispersed by the police.

Navigation At Standstill

Steamship navigation was at a dead standstill yesterday, so far as ships leaving Shanghai for river and China coast ports was concerned. Twelve steamers, cargo laden and cleared by the Customs, were held up in port.

The strike began Monday night, when seven ships which were scheduled to sail could not leave. Yesterday morning the walk-out extended to practically all sailors, firemen and other employes of the local steamship lines. Officials at the various shipping offices said yesterday that they hoped to be able to despatch all delayed craft this morning, trusting that the strike will be over by that time.

The China Navigation Company has been worst hit thus far, having six ships held in port which should have gone yesterday and Monday. The ships are the Hsin Peking, due to have left for Ningpo Monday afternoon; the Tatung due to have left for river ports at midnight Monday; the Chihli and Fengtien, due to have gone to Northern ports yesterday afternoon, and the Sinkiang and Tientsin, which were to have sailed for Southern ports at daylight yesterday.

The China Merchants' company had two ships held up—the Kianghsin, scheduled to leave for river ports Monday night, and the Kiangteen, for Ningpo yesterday afternoon.

The Hwahlee and the Koonshing, of the Indo-China Steam Navigation Company fleet, scheduled to sail for river ports and for Northern ports respectively on Monday were still detained last night and the Hsin Ningshao, of the Ningshao Steam Navigation Co., which was to have gone to Ningpo Monday, was held up.

The Tachang Maru, of the Nisshin Kisen Kaisha, was also unable to get away Monday night. All of the ships had loaded cargo and cleared at the Customs.

The only steamers which left Shanghai yesterday up to 5 p.m. were the Blue Funnel liner Rhesus, for London and Antwerp, and the S.M.R. s.s. Sakaki Maru for Dairen.

Telephone Men Quit

Some 500 employes of the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Company, including practically every operator and workman, went on strike yesterday morning when the night shift had finished its turn. The company's officials knew that the move was coming the night before and sought to keep the men at work but beyond holding on through the night they would not stay. They refused to say on whose instigation the strike was called and stated that they were going to quit simply in order to secure the liberty of the imprisoned students in Peking. They had positively no grievance against the company or any of its officials, they said.

The Company immediately made plans to carry on a concentrated service and yesterday the work of operation passed into the hands of the foreign staff of 23 girls, augmented by eight former women employes who loyally volunteered to assist in the emergency. With this force a very efficient service was maintained throughout yesterday and last night, operation being necessarily concentrated upon the more imperative lists, but extending through all three exchanges. The foreign staff will carry on as long as necessary but efforts are being made to get the Chinese staff to return and it is hoped that the attempt will meet with success today. In the meantime, telephone users should take into consideration the difficulties of the situation and not make unnecessary calls to add to the work of the foreign staff which is carrying on a highly admirable service to the community under an exacting strain.

The number of telephone operators on strike is about 350 and the number of workmen about 150. The following explanation of their stand was sent in late yesterday:

June 10, 1919.

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

We beg to state you that our strike going on this morning is simply because we wish to set out those students who were in the prison in Peking at present and we are not at all against to the company or the manager. Therefore we hold a meeting and wishing to give those poor students a little help and we had settled a few terms among us which we are entreat you to grant us that favor we shall attend to our work as soon as we receiving your kind permission.

Terms as follow:

(1) We do not wish to take any Japanese calls during the strike work.

(2) We beg the manager here to ask the consulate telegram to Chinese Government to set out all the students who were caught in prison and discharge these traitors at once.

(3) Please do not enquire who was the chief one made them to stop their work, because we all agreed ourselves by each other and please let us have the proof first and then we will come to work punctually.

(4) The Company should put back all the Chinese subs that have been taken down yesterday.

I am, dear Sir,
Yours faithfully,
All Telephone employee.

Chinese Staffs Not To Strike

The Chinese staffs of foreign business firms, other than Japanese firms, will not go out on strike, according to a resolution unanimously passed at a meeting of more than 200 representatives of the Shanghai foreign business houses yesterday.

It was announced at the meeting by Mr. Yuan Li-tung, compradore of the American Trading Company, that telegrams had been received by the local offices of the Bank of China and Bank of Communications that a mandate has been issued by the President ordering the dismissal of Tsao Ju-lin, Chang Chung-hsiang and Lu Chung-yu from office.

The meeting was held at the Cantonese Club and was presided over by Mr. E. S. Ling, of the publicity department of Messrs. Andersen, Meyer and Company.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Ling asked his audience to be patriotic without being destructive. He said that the strike among laborers connected with the public utilities would be destructive and would be the last thing thoughtful Chinese would like to see. The closing of the headquarters of the Students' Union, in Mr. Ling's opinion, was due to the loafers. He then pointed out that as the two demands of the students, namely, the release of the Peking students and the dismissal of the pro-Japanese officials, have almost been satisfied, the general strike might be called off.

Mr. Thomas Wong then moved for the organisation of a society of the Chinese staffs of the foreign firms and suggested the formation of a council consisting of two representatives from each of the big foreign firms and one each from the smaller concerns. The motion was carried.

Mr. Yuan after speaking of the receipt of the telegrams from Peking also reported on the results of his interview with Mr. E. C. Pearce, the chairman of the Municipal Council, who, he said, while sensitive of the effort of the students to maintain peace and order, deprecated labor strikes.

Trams Still Running

The threatened strike of tramway company employes did not materialise although it was not until 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning that the first cars were running. Police details were on duty at all carbarns but there was no trouble.

More foreign firms were affected yesterday. The strikers included 64 fitters at the Municipal Electric Power Station, nine employes of the China Import and Export Lumber Company, 35 fitters at the Shanghai Cotton Mill number one, 84 at the San Sing Cotton Mill, ten at the Oriental Cotton Mill, five at Loau Kung Mow mill, eleven at the Ewo mill, ten at Hing Fong mill, three at the Yangtszepoo paper mill, coolies at Fearon, Daniel and Company, mafoos, brass-smiths, iron workers and representatives of other trades.

Two thousand men employed at the Yangtszepoo Dock and New Engineering Works quit work and hundreds of laundry men joined the ranks of strikers.

Brokers were inconvenienced by the strike of mafoos and more are expected to leave their carriages today.

Food Situation Easier

The food situation is a little easier. Markets throughout the Settlement were open for a few hours yesterday morning and vegetable and food stores remained open all day. Enough beef and mutton is available for four or five days.

Killing and dressing at the Municipal slaughter house on Fearon Road went on yesterday with a heavy detail of foreign and Sikh police, Sikh troopers and Mohammedan warders from the jail on guard. Mohammedan warders escorted dressed beef to cold storage plants in the early hours of the morning.

Price Of Rice Higher

The profiteer is again in evidence. Rice has jumped sixty cents per picul in the last four days and it is now being sold at $6.60 to $7.60 per picul.

Japanese have huge quantities of rice stored at Pootung and have arranged for the transfer daily of required amounts.

Two hand carts loaded with flour, on the way to a Japanese steamer from a dealer in the French Concession, were at Hongkew Police Station yesterday afternoon, taken there by a police escort when crowds threatended to attack the coolies. The coolies told the mob that the flour was intended for the students and later admitted that they were told by Japanese to give such information when any one inquired as to the destination of the flour.

Chauffeurs Work Today

Some fifty chauffeurs, representatives of men employed by public garages and owners of private cars, agreed to return to work this morning following a conference with Major A. H. Hilton-Johnson, Deputy Superintendent of Police. The conference was held at the Central Police Station yesterday afternoon.

Chauffeurs said they struck in sympathy with the students and professed a willingness to return to their employment. Several drivers of private cars were at work last night.

The Day's Disorders

Police attached to Louza Station had two brushes with crowds on Thibet Road between 5 and 6:30 o'clock last evening. Shortly after five o'clock Inspector Kerrigan was notified by Mr. Ilbert of the Municipal Electricty Department that a procession was on its way into the Settlement from the French Concession. With Detective Inspector Cruickshank, six Sikh troopers and a detail of Sikh constables, Inspecter Kerrigan went to meet the parade.

Some 200 engineers carrying banners refused to give up their flags when requested and when the police charged the paraders and the crowd that gathered stones were thrown, several Sikhs being hit. One or two Chinese were injured.

A second call for reserves from Louza saw Sikh troopers clear Thibet Road the second time. One Chinese was cut about the head when he collided with the ragged edge of a stone wall.

Yesterday morning, reserves from Wayside were called out when a threatening crowd assembled about the temple on Ward Road which is being used as headquarters for striking iron workers and brass smiths. The strikers held a meeting but were orderly. There was no trouble.

Gunboat At Jetty

The British gunboat Bee tied up at the Customs Jetty shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon and everything is ready on the man of war for a quick landing if necessary. Machine guns are ready on the forward deck for instant duty. The Captain Superintendent of Police visited the Bee later in the afternoon.

It was learned that the officers of the British gunboat are responsible for the action. No request has been made by the Municipal Council for assistance.

A police official said last night, "The Bee is at the Customs Jetty so

Notes Of The Strike

A new alibi appearing on a closely battened shop on North Szechuen Road yesterday read: "Close For Stock Taking."

"We want to get some fresh air" was the apology posted in English on the facade of an establishment which had peeled off one of its shutters.

The three butchers arrested at the Ward Road market the other day appeared before Assessor Spiker and Magistrate Yui yesterday on the charge of intimidating a pork butcher into abandoning his occupation. Two were fined $3 each and the other was fined $5.

Li Ling-ling, an electrician arrested on the Shanghai Tramways premises on Hart Road, appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday charged with inciting others to strike. He was remanded for trial before the British Assessor and will appear again today.

The Chinese saved from a mob in the Jessfield Road district Monday and believed to be demented appeared yesterday in the Mixed Court. He was found feeding children with candy which was alleged by certain Chinese to contain poison. The Court ordered him to be handed over to his brother to be sent to Ningpo.

A further run on the Bank of Communications followed the refusal of several exchange shops yesterday morning to honor paper issued by the institution. Between 1,500 and 2,000 people received silver at the Bank yesterday in return for bank notes. Police details were on hand to keep the crowd orderly.

A Chinese shop assistant arrested in Hongkew Sunday and charged with riotous behavior and with damaging a shop at 1128 Hanbury Road was remanded in custody for one week by the Mixed Court yesterday.

Canned corned beaf is growing less prevalent since the slaughterhouse got going again, though molars are getting a severe tryout in the fletcherising of unhung meat. A number or residents are taking no chances on a shortage of substantial foods even yet and foreigners are to be seen escorting live stock about in rickshas. One gentleman was observed having a most interesting time with a live pig in one of these vehicles the other day.

Peking Released Arrested Students In Moment Of Panic

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, June 7.—The Government's change of policy day before yesterday afternoon, and the resulting withdrawal of the troops guarding the students interned at the Government University, was due partly to the fact that the faculty and students of Peking's military schools, which have hitherto held aloof from the movement, threatened to take a hand unless repressive measures against the students ceased; and partly to the fact that the local Chamber of Commerce threatened to call a general merchants' strike unless the students were released and permitted to go ahead with their peaceful campaign. Parliament, too, was a factor in the Government's change of heart, as the members of the Club of 1919 threatened to impeach the Cabinet if a new policy towards the students were not adopted at once. And then the Government received the news of the strike at Shanghai.

With this in mind, with Nanking and Tientsin given up to the students' movement, and with 500 students due here from Shanghai to help fill the student prisons, the Government lost heart and decided upon leniency. The militarists fought it to the last and insisted that leniency would end in the ruin of the present powers that be, but the moderates had their way and the reactionaries did not feel strong enough to oppose them. As one Chinese official said—and his sentiments are re-echoed by many—"the students have scored their first big victory at the expense of the military and financial clique."

Yesterday afternoon General Wu Ping-hsiang, the Chief of Police, summoned the representatives of the Teachers' Association to his office and requested them to bail out all the students interned in the law buildings of the Government University. Messrs. Wang Chia-chu and Tang Erh-ho replied in behalf of the teachers that the Government might release the students, but that they would never imply that the students were guilty by offering to bail them out.

At 6 o'clock in the evening all the soldiers' tents were struck and removed from the Government University, the military guards retiring in a body. Five of them were, however, captured by the students before they could get out of the compound, and the students interned them and took possession of their arms. The students forced their prisoners to go without food over night, thus getting a bit of their own back for the 36 foodless hours that some of their number had gone through when they were first interned.

The Government, by the way, has not fed the students during the past three days, and all their food was sent to them in carts from their respective schools. Bedding, washing facilities and the other necessities of life reached the students in the same manner, the Government providing nothing.

After the departure of the soldiers the Students' Association held a special meeting and passed a resolution demanding of the Government that the three traitors be punished and asking whether the Government intended to heed them and to mete out real justice to the traitors or to continue making blunders that were certain to lead to its ultimate downfall. The work of the students was but half done while the betrayers of China went unpunished, and it was for the Government to decide whether it wanted peace or a revolution.

The students also decided to stay interned under their own guards until the Government informed them whether or not they were guilty of any act warranting their imprisonment. If they were not guilty they would demand an apology from the Government and full liberty to resume their peaceful activities for the country's territorial, industrial and political welfare.

Li Shun Threatens To Take Severe Measures In Nanking

(China Press Correspondence)

Nanking, June 9.—All Government schools were closed today by order the Civil Governor, and all mission schools are also being closed. Nanking is fairly quiet though several skirmishes between police and students have taken place. The latter have not been treated very kindly and quite a number have had a new experience in supporting their patriotism. The unanimity of the students throughout the strike has been unusual, and they have carried out their program with considerable degree of success.

Yesterday a big meeting was held at the Military Governor's yamen. There were present General Li Shun, the Civil Governor; Wang Kuei-ling, the Commissioner of Police, faculty representatives from different schools, including the foreign schools, and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce. Speeches were made for about five hours. Most of the discussion dealt with the "present situation in Nanking"—Nothing was said by any of the officials in their hours of speeches of getting down to the root of the trouble. It took one of the school men, an American returned student, to bring to the attention of the meeting, that Nanking was a very minor part of the trouble, and would solve itself when the people knew that steps were being taken to get at the rest of the trouble in Peking. The Civil Governor made the enlightening remark that no one in Peking had been proved to be guilty of any misdemeanor—it was certainly not a matter of court record at least—and hence the returned students' point was not well taken! The Police Commissioner blames the foreigners (certainly he meant Americans) for stirring up the trouble. This is an interesting statement in the light of a commonly current report as to his connection with the Japanese.

General Li Shun stated that if order had not been restored by Wednesday, he would take over the city, and that no half-way method would be adopted. As a matter of fact, soldiers have already been stationed in various parts throughout the city.

The head of the Chamber of Commerce, in a strong statement, made it perfectly clear that the merchants in closing their doors were not acting because of the students, but for the very definite principles that were involved in the present trouble.

PEKING STUDENTS FORM PERMANENT ORANISATION

Regard Their Release From Prison As First Step To Ultimate Victory

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, June 6.—The Peking Organisation of Arrested Students has been formed today by representatives of seventeen Peking schools within the walls of the Peking Government University.

At six o'clock last night the soldiers round the Law and Science Department of the Government University were withdrawn, but since that time the students have remained still "imprisoned." How is their condition changed? In that they are guarded now by self-appointed police of their own number, that defeat of the students' movement is changed to the first cause of victory, and silent patience changed to feverish activity.

Several members of the teaching staff of one of the larger Peking schools started off early this morning to visit their students and congratulate them on their release. Arriving at the university gate, they were stopped by a guard of students armed with rifles, stationed to keep out intruders as well as to keep in their fellow prisoners. The teachers stated their business to confer and advise with members of their school—signed their names, and were given passports which allowed them to enter.

In a large assembly hall, to which a student guard directed them, the teachers found the representatives of their school holding a meeting. This hall had been assigned to them by the head committee of students. On the appearance of the teachers' delegation the students rose, gave the college yell and escorted their guests with great dignity to the front of the room, where they were invited each in turn to address their former pupils. The teachers spoke all in a similar vein, urging the students to stick together and to undertake seriously and without delay the education of the people along constructive lines in the ideals they upheld.

The meeting was then reopened with the report of the two delegates who had been sent the night before to the central committee of delegates. The decisions of this committee as reported by the two delegates covered the organisation, name and aims of the student body. Two delegates chosen by the assemblies of each of the seventeen interned schools are to sit on the central committee which is to determine all important business in a provisional way, their decisions to become "laws" only when returned and ratified by the assemblies. Each school is also to appoint an executive secretary and committees for correspondence, rules, and guard of the camp.

At this point in the meeting the delegate from the members of the schools outside the camp arrived and made his report. The outside members had arranged to send each of the prisoners his bedding, clothes, and books so that they might remain "all summer or if necessary, a year, until the government answers our requests in the proper way."

The demands which the student organisation has drawn up and presented to the government include

1. Explanation as to the highhanded arrests made by the police.
2. Institution of true freedom o. speech and of the press.
3. Promise of the government to obey the laws of the original republican constitution until the parliament shall be legally elected.

Failing a proper response to these requests the students say they will remain in voluntary confinement as a protest unless drivon out by force.

Thoughout the meeting and again as a parting adjuration to the collected assembly the leaders earnestly urged their comrades the necessity of sticking together, of not weakening now that opposition had been removed but of continuing ever with closer and stronger organisation to spread abroad the ideals of democracy, a united and independent China, and a prosperous and enlightened people, which they had advocated from the beginning.

"Let us gain the sympathy of the people. Let us work together with merchants, tradesmen, lawyers and teachers, to save China."

TUAN CHI-KUEI RESIGNS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, June 6.—General Tuan Chi-kuei, a younger brother of General Tuan Chi-jui and Commander of the Precautionary Forces in Peking, has tendered his resignation to the President on the ground that he can no longer control the students' movement or guarantee the safety of the capital. President Hsu returned Tuan's letter of resignation and told him to keep his post, as the Government was satisfied with the measures that he had taken to maintain the public peace.

General Tuan Chi-kuei is the officer who is responsible for the closing of the Yi Shih Pao under article 14 of the provisions regarding martial law. It was he who negotiated the appointment of General Wang Huai-ching as chief of the Gendarmerie in place of General Li Chang-tai, who had always been friendly to the students. And it has been under General Tuan's instructions that the censorship of all press messages to and from Peking has been enforced with a severity unheard of in the history of the Chinese Republic.

Republican Committee Organises New Senate

Political Gossip In U.S. Centers On Wilson Hint He Won't Be Candidate Next Year

(News Letter by Cable from Washington)

Peking, June 6.—The United States Senate was reorganised under the new change which has taken place in party control in Congress by the adoption of a committee composed of Republicans. The slate, with the principal chairmanships, are: Foreign Relations, Lodge; Finance, Penrose; Appropriations, Warren; Immigration, Colt; Interstate, Cummins; Commerce, Jones; Judiciary, Nelson; Military, Wadsworth; Naval, Page; Agriculture, Banking; Currency, MacLean; with the addition of Johnson of California, New of Indiana, Moses of New Hampshire to the existing membership of the Foreign Relations committee.

The woman suffrage amendment to the constitution was passed by House resolution by 304 in favor to 89 against, and the test vote indicates probable adoption by the Senate.

During the past week the Senate has had a wide latitude in the discussion of the resolution by Senator Johnson of California to publish immediately the peace treaty. Hitchcook, who leads the opposition, explained why it was that the full text was not made public pending its signature by the delegates at Paris.

The House committee has reported a bill to repeal the 10 percent semi-luxury war taxes, and has plans for a general tariff revision.

The $45,000,000 war risk deficiency bill was passed by both Houses. The Naval Committee of the House was told by Secretary Daniels that peace and the League of Nations tend to make unnecessary a big naval program.

Artas Herman Saastamoinen was provisionally received by the Department as the representative of the de facto government of Finland, and the appointment of Thornwell Haynes, at Helsingfors, as Commissioner to Finland with the rank of Minister was announced, pending the establishment in Finland in the near future of an American Legation.

Considerable attention is being given by American papers to President Wilson's speech at the dinner of the Pan-American peace delegates at Paris on May 26 in honor of President elect Pessoa, of Brazil. Referring to President Pessoa, President Wilson said, "It is very delightful to know that my Presidency is not ahead of me and that his Presidency is ahead of him." This is interpreted by some American papers as bearing on the coming Presidential candidacy. The President said that his chief source of anxiety has ever been to express the general spirit of the nation; that shortly after he assumed the Presidency he urged that other American states unite with the United States in some organisation which resembles the proposed league, and he said that the impulse which was then given has led to "a sort of mutual pledge of all self-governing nations of the world that they will not only be friends of each other but they will take pains to secure each other's safety, independence and territorial integrity."

On Wednesday the Democratic national committee meeting at Chicago adopted a resolution which urged the ratification of the treaty, including the covenant, and cheered when reference was made to former President Taft, who constantly has advocated the League of Nations.

The New York Times says that the German Government's attack on the terms of the treaty is mere tactical by-play; and the World says that if Germany desires to have military occupation, she will be accommodated in her desire. The Tribune says that the influence of America at Paris has been "happily thrown in on the side of forming the fewest possible economic bonds on Germany." It is stated by Senator Phelan that the Western people are overwhelmingly in favor of the League. The World has the Ludendorff interview, in which he said that the war would have been won by Germany but for America. The victory loan totals $5,250,000,000, or seventeen percent over the mark. A Society with widespread membership embracing persons in all phases of war activity has been organised, together with a similarly planned organisation for women war workers.

Discussing the proposed reservations by China's delegates regarding Shantung, the Associated Press states that these reservations were not ample to insure to China an opportunity to bring its claims to absolute and unqualified restoration of Shantung peninsula before the League Council options assembly. Dr. Iyenage informs the British schools and universities in New York that the Anglo-Japanese alliance was necessary in order to preserve peace for teeming millions in Asia, but that the responsibility which rests upon the alliance might safely be shifted to the League of Nations when it is in working condition.

CONCRETE FROM SEAWEED

English Combine Is With Slag And Use It For Building Purposes

London, March 22.—A novel use has been found here for seaweed. Combined with crushed slag and other heretofore neglected waste mineral products, it is used to make a kind of concrete out of which are being fashioned building bricks and blocks. The seaweed acts as a binding and strengthening element.

Arrangements are being made to put up a larger number of houses composed entirely of these blocks, and it is predicted that the material, owing to its cheapness, will aid in solving the housing problem.

Not only the foundations and walls, but the doors, window frames, and mantelpieces are to be constructed of the new concrete. The houses are to be made in sections and bolted together. The window frame is a new idea in itself. The glass, in one large pane, slips into a slot, and the edges of molding are then turned over, so as to grip it. To mend a broken window will be a simple matter, and will not require the services of a glazier.

It is said that dwellings made of the concrete will be warm and thoroughly damp proof.

Taking advantage of the campaign to secure the Boycott of Japanese goods, agitators and disorderly persons, who have no concern for the welfare of China, or of the residents of this Settlement, are endeavouring to foment trouble to suit their own ends preying upon peaceful merchants and residents.

It has therefore become necessary for the Council to take drastic action to preserve the peace and good order of the Settlement and to protect peaceful residents and merchants from the violence of such disorderly persons.

Warning is accordingly given:

1.—That the distribution of handbills of an inflamatory character and the exhibition of flags bearing characters which furnish a direct incitement to disorder, are prohibited. Contravention of this prohibition will be punished without the least leniency.

2.—That no credence should be given to rumours which are designed to stir up animosity and foment trouble. Several such rumours have been brought to the notice of the Council and upon investigation, have been found to be utterly baseless. The authors of, and those spreading such rumours will, upon detection, be punished without the least leniency.

3.—That the assembling of crowds in the streets of the Settlement will not be permitted. Those who have no legitimate business to attend to should not loiter on the streets or mix with the agitators and loafers who are bent on provoking trouble. During the evenings all peaceful residents should remain at Home. The Council will not be responsible for any injury or damage that may be sustained by any person contravening this order and advice.

Shopkeepers and merchants are advised to re-open to public business and in case of any intimidation to enforce the closing of their shops or places of business to report the same immediately to the nearest Police Station with a statement of the circumstances in detail, whereupon their assailants will be arrested and brought before the Court and severely punished without the least leniency.

Warning is duly given. Let all obey.

Britain Celebrates Birthday Of King

Chief Feature Observance In London Is Trooping Of Colors By Guard

(Reuter's Agency War Service)

London, June 3.—The King's Birthday was enthusiastically celebrated today throughout the Empire.

The chief feature of the official celebrations in London was the trooping of the colors by the Guards Brigade in Hyde Park. The weather was fine and enormous crowds were present.

The Queen, Princess Mary and the ladies of the Royal family occupied a pavilion near the saluting base. The King accompanied by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught followed by Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, other notables and the King's Indian orderlies rode to the Park, where massed bands played the National Anthem and the Royal Standard was hoisted. After the ceremony of trooping the colors, their Majesties watched the troops march past Buckingham Palace.

IMPARTIAL AND PROGRESSIVE

SHANGHAI, JUNE 11, 1919

To The Chinese, And Some Foreigners

ON the front page of this issue is a Reuter telegram from Peking expressing that city's surprise at and grave doubt of the wisdom of the way the Shanghai authorities are handling the strike here. In this office is a pile of letters from foreigners expressing, in many cases vigorously, similar surprise and doubt. Because of the critical situation now existing and the impossibility of determining what trend it will take, THE CHINA PRESS believes it is wisest to reserve comment and not to print communications bearing on the subject—at this time. To do so would do no good. It might do great harm. At the proper time, when there is no longer any danger of adding fuel to a smouldering blaze, this paper will speak—fully and frankly.

In the meantime, since there is so much puzzlement among the intelligent Chinese, and so much chagrin at what they conceive to be a complete misunderstanding, and since those sentiments may easily turn to irritation, THE CHINA PRESS wishes to say this to the Chinese:

Do not misjudge the attitude of the entire foreign community from what is being said in some quarters which do not share the discretion of maintaining silence in a controversial issue when controversy is dangerous. Do not, to be quite open, regard the North-China Daily News as representative of the attitude of this community or of even a large part of it. Do not believe us all so thoroughly blind as to think that the merchants are closing their shops only because they were "intimidated" by the students or so supremely stupid as to see nothing more in this movement than "lawlessness." Do not believe us all so callous or so dull of understanding as not to know that there are higher motives actuating you and that you are acting out of what you conceive to be a fine ideal. Do not believe that we all are ignorant of the fact that you have worked for the preservation of order and that we do not understand the self-control that involves and that we do not appreciate it. Remember that in matters concerning China the North-China Daily News is always reactionary, always myopic where not actually blind, as it was in 1911 and again in 1915, and that since this is a permanent condition of mind it cannot represent more than a fringe of the community, it cannot represent even the personnel of its changing staff, but only certain small but powerful and unenlightened forces. Do not then allow yourselves to be misled into misjudging all foreigners in Shanghai or into reaching inaccurate conclusions as to foreigners in general.

And one thing more. Most foreigners of Shanghai have the deepest admiration for your patriotism and for your willingness to make sacrifices for it. They have the warmest sympathy for your efforts to purge yourselves of those who have dragged China in ignominy and humiliation and sought to betray it. And they wish you God-speed and success. Men can ask no less of men than that they fight for the freedom of their own souls. One race can ask no less of another race that it respects than that it struggle to throw off the bonds of slavery. But you must remember this: The surest way to defeat your cause is to let it get out of your control into mob action. Close your shops, yes, but when you tie up all industries, not only are you making the innocent suffer but you are playing straight for ruin, ruin for all of us. Everybody admires the patriotism of the masses fired by an ideal, but patriotism cannot live on an empty stomach, and when 50,000 or 100,000 or 200,000 dock workers and mill workers and ricsha coolies and other coolies have been out of work and foodless for three or four days, their patriotism will yield to their stomachs, your commonsense will melt away before their passion. They will riot, they will loot, they will kill. And that will leave the foreign authorities no choice, for their own protection and for yours, but to repress and repress with an iron hand. And your glorious movement, for it is that, will be crushed, and with it the finest hope that has dawned in China in this generation. When, therefore, you have to choose between abandoning your demonstration and precipitating anarchy and a massacre, abandon it. Abandon it for its own sake. You will not have yielded. You will have prevented a crushing defeat. You will not have yielded, for you have already demonstrated your strength, you haye already terrified your rotten rulers and shown to them that there is still spirit and pride of race in the Chinese. And you will be able to use that strength again, and use it to even better advantage, for you will have learned how. If that time is now, abandon it now, open the shops, get your workmen back to their work and to their rice bowls. Act before it is too late, before your children and ours will be the prey of angry mobs. The test is this: so long as the movement is under the control of the students and the intelligent classes, go on with it; when it has got out of their control, end it and end it at once. If that time has come, do it now, do it before all of us shall rue it.

And this, too, you must know: whether you or we agree or disagree with the Municipal Council, whether you or we think its measures justified or unjustified, it does constitute after all the lawful governing authority of this Settlement and as such its orders must be obeyed. Whether those orders are wise or unwise we can argue out and decide in calmer and less dangerous times. Now they must be obeyed, by Chinese, by Americans and by other nationalities, too. That is the first principle of government, of the kind of government that you want for China. Show your capacity for it by recognising it here.

But above all, know this: you are not isolated, you are not unbefriended, you are not deserted. However thick and stupid and blind may be the things that have been said by those who have done all the talking, the overwhelming majority of foreigners understand, sympathise, applaud. And they want fairplay for you in your uphill fight. It is for your own sake and the sake of your cause that they advise you to be careful.

THE CHINA PRESS can say these things to you as no other paper can, because since its first issue appeared it has befriended China struggling for freedom. It was your friend in 1911 when you sought to strike off the shackles of the decaying Manchu and every other paper jeered. It was your friend in 1915 when Yuan Shih-k'ai sought to rob China of the fruits of its awakening. It was your friend in 1917, when the Tuchuns made their first bid for the power that has since been China's curse. It is your friend now in your fight against the traitors of Peking. And it is in that spirit it speaks to you now and it knows you will understand.

Correspondence

From Changsha Students

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir.—With respect to the present students movement, may we, the students of the Hunan Polytechnic Institute, venture to state some of our views in the valuable columns of your paper, which is devoted to progress in China?

In the first place we wish to express our appreciation for the encouragement and advice given to the progressive elements in China as often appear in your editorial columns.

We, the students of China, also believe China is her own worst enemy and she must be her own savior, whose task will, however, be greatly accelerated by the genuine assistance, both moral and physical, of impartial and friendly nations.

We also understand it is our bounden duty to study as much as we can while in schools and under ordinary circumstances it would be most foolish to suspend attending classes, which is diagonally opposed to the method and purpose of education. But, alas, recent events have forced us to resort to our present attitude and for the purpose of saving our beloved country we find no immediate alternative.

We do not mean to be destructive or hot-headed; on the other hand, our sole aim is to be constructive and steadfast. There are a few things that we consider to be of greatest importance: we want a responsible government that will act purely in the interest of the people; we want Chinese territory preserved against foreign encroachment; we want good laws made and enforced; we want every citizen in China to realise his duty and responsibility to the country; we want our immense natural resources developed and protected; we want China to take her proper place among the family of nations; but above all we at present want to establish such forces in our country as will lead to and guarantee these objects (by this we mean to educate the masses so as to create a strong public opinion in order to supervise the Parliament and the Government; and we believe not until this is done real democratic administration is impossible), and, lastly, we wish the whole world to know that the Chinese students are determined to have their country in good order, and that they welcome the encouragement and support of friendly nations.

The boycott movement, the school strikes, the students lecturing campaign, the planning of home industrial development and other procedures are directly aimed at the attainment of these objects and one thing we are certain of is that our present movement is already showing signs of success. Yet success or no success, as our opponents may be pleased to judge, we are most confident that so long as we act circumspectly and steadfastly our present effort will eventually bear very far-reaching fruits. We read with much regret that in one or two cases American firms have slightly suffered through the present boycott; but we can safely say over ninety-nine percent of our fellow students and ourselves have considered, are considering and likely will ever consider America as our true friend. So no weight should be attached to those exceptional and foolish incidents and we close by asking you to kindly express our views in your columns.

We are, Dear Sir,
Yours faithfully,
Students of the Hunan Polytechnic Institute.

Changsha, Hunan, June 6, 1919.

Chinese Students Are Trying To Prevent General Strikes

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir.—Many charges have been made against the students that they were inciting the laborers to strike. These charges are maliciously spread by the agents of the traitors who are trying to undermine the present movement after they have failed to intimidate them with bayonets and guns.

Here are a few facts about the students and the strike:

When the tram conductors wanted to strike by following the example of the merchants and the students, they were saying to themselves: "How can we work when our country is becoming a second Korea?" When the students heard of that, they immediately despatched delegates to see them and succeeded in persuading them to see that it was more patriotic for them to remain in their post than by quitting work. The servants and cooks of the foreign residents, too, were contemplating a general walkout, but were persuaded to remain at work by the students as they told them not to cause any inconvenience to their foreign friends.

Instead of getting credit where credit is due, the students are getting the blame and are charged with having incited the strikes and broken the peace of the Settlement, thus furnishing the Municipal Council an excuse to attempt to suppress the movement by force. This is exactly how the militarists in Peking wish to deal with the Shanghai situation. Are we in sympathy with the militarists?

One student representative went to a certain labor center and tried to tell them that they should not suspend work. This is the response he had: "Do you think we have not enough conscience to express our indignation towards the traitors? Would you think for a moment that patriotism is confined to you students and merchants, only because you happen to be better educated and richer?"

What can the students do?

What advice would our foreign friends give us under the circumstances?

When the telephone operators were about to strike, the students succeeded in persuading them to stay on the job, for they told the operators that it would be more patriotic for them to stay on than to quit. But they struck, because, we are told, the management ordered them to pay more attention to the foreign calls than to the Chinese. We do not deny for a moment that there are agitators among the laborers, but they do not come from the student class. Students and merchants are working hard day and night to prevent a labor strike. This is a truth which the public should know.

These strikes among the various interests are not for demanding higher pay nor for shorter hours as are generally caused in foreign countries. The laborers strike because they do not wish to be behind in their love for the country.

A RETURNED STUDENT.

International Co-Operation Through The Press

By R. Fanciulli
Assistant Publisher, New York Evening Post
(Youropela Review)

Perhaps we have come to look upon newspapers in such a commonplace, daily routine fashion that the vision which the framers of the American Constitution expressed in almost axiomatic terms, "freedom of the press," somewhat escapes our notice. Revisions and reforms seem to be penetrating in all directions, missing hardly any phase of endeavor in civilisation. In these times, therefore, it would seem that the press should come in for a certain measure of noticeable change. As a matter of fact, without a very perceptible public consciousness of it, the evolution of the press is constant and does exist.

One hears little of the probable functions of the press in the reorganised state towards which the world is heading. Peoples the world over are indulging in hopes that a lasting peace will be effected as the outcome of the Conference of Nations in Paris. It hardly matters to them whether the form, in which their hopes are realised, is a League of Nations or something equally practical, so long as it is a genuine peace.

Through the conferences in Paris, with their solemnity and sincerity of purpose, the confidence of peoples is being created. From the ideas that reach them they recognise that most problems affecting the better inter-relationship between nations are being given careful consideration. Without an adjustment of these problems the permanency of peace might be threatened at the outset. Perhaps no better confidence could be created than the knowledge that the best minds from every nation are assembled to adjust diplomatic, financial and economic problems in order that humanity may go forward with new resolve.

Many plans are being proposed and discussed for the safe carrying out of the program which the Peace Conference will finally determine. Among these there has, however, not come forward, as yet, a proposal that the press of the world should be united as a factor in maintaining that program. Indeed it was threatened in the beginning of the Conference that the journalists assembled in Paris would have limited privileges. How serious a calamity this might have been is recognised by the quick correction of such a threatened condition.

The world but recently was suddenly shocked by the revelations of what was known as German propaganda. In a recent British publication it was said that German propaganda pushed the Italians back to the plains of Lombardy; put Russia out of the war and that it held the United States out of the war for two years. In the same publication it was stated that British propaganda gradually opened the eyes of the American public to the true conditions. Looking at these statements in whichever spirit they may have been intended, it is nevertheless a recognised fact that propaganda was diligently used as a weapon. It, of course, does not imply that newspapers are the only media for propaganda, but it is certain that wherever the door of a newspaper office was open to it, propaganda entered.

It sufficiently illustrates that the functions of newspapers open a field of service worthy of recognition in behalf of the maintenance of peace. In the United States after the revolution, newspapers, though still in their infancy, improved as fast as mechanical means were devised. They contributed in a helpful way to the early development of the nation. After the Civil War, with the use of telegraph and cable, newspapers again took a noticeable step forward and were enabled to bring distant parts of the world closer together. Today the efficiency of newspapers has reached the highest state in the gift of art and science. The power of the press to disseminate knowledge and promote better understandings between peoples is fully understood. But apparently something is lacking or surely a place of recognition would be found for the public press to unite in a new and stronger manner and in an organised way assist in serving the peoples of the world in their hopes for the permanency of peace.

The organisations of labor, of finance and of commerce are each participating in the constructive plans now being formulated. Their representation is important and valuable. In the past an excellent scheme of co-operation and interchange of knowledge was developed whereby the progress in legislation, science and art in one nation benefitted another. The world was entitled to possess this knowledge. Custom and necessity permitted the courtesy of one government sending diplomats and commercial, military and naval attaches to officially represent it at the courts of other governments to study and report events. Would it not seem wholesome then to have the press of all countries so inter-related that in the future there may be a greater interchange of information which the peoples of the world will need that they may better understand each other and maintain the peace among nations?

Rumanian Queen, Charmer Of Diplomacy

By Lincoln Eyre

The Peace Conference is a strictly "stag" affair. Frequent and clamorous appeals are powerless to gain the skirted sex a seat at the council board. Neither noisy champions of "women's rights" nor soft-voiced sirens of the fashionable world—or half-world—have any "pull" with the peace makers. Present day diplomacy boasts a happy freedom from those feminine intrigues with which statecraft in the olden time was so scandalously tainted. Madame de Krudener, that strange enchantress whose seductive mysticism so strongly swayed the Congress of Vienna, wouldn't have a chance with the statesmen of today—they say so themselves.

And yet—"Cherchez la femme!" There is one woman to whom austere masculinity, as assembled at the Quai d'Orsay, has gallantly bent the knee. Where Lorelei lures and petticoat plots miserably fail, the radiant charm, womanly wit and glorious attainments of a royal heroine win swift success. Marie, Queen of Rumania, has captivated the Conference.

With her three young daughters, the Queen came to Paris in the early days of March. The capital of France has seen many royal visitors of late; only a week before, Italy's Queen and her pretty children sojourned quietly at the Hotel Meurice. Marie's arrival, therefore, attracted scant notice. Her Majesty was welcomed at the station by officials of the French Government, the Rumanian Minister and other functionaries, in accordance with the unvarying protocol. Acclaimed by the cheering crowds Paris always produces on such occasions, the royal party repaired in limousines to the Ritz, where they were to stop. Thus far all had gone according to established precedents, and the illustrious newcomers had created no small ripple on the surface of events pertaining to the peace deliberations. That afternoon, however, the Queen graciously granted audience to the journalists "covering" the Conference. And, curiously enough, these blaze gentry besieged the royal suite in shoals. Mysterious rumors were afloat. This particular royalty was well worth seeing, it was whispered. So scribes of every nationality left the Quai d'Orsay to its own devices and hurried around to the Ritz.

They found the golden beauty of "the loveliest princess in Europe" undimmed by wartime sufferings, her personal magnetism as sparkling as ever. In the colorful prose that has won her enviable literary prestige, Marie told of her country's martyrdom, of the glories and tragedies she had seen on Rumanian battlefields, of the Rumanian people's heroic fortitude through the dark hours of defeat, and of their unswerving faith in ultimate victory. She said little of her own magnificent achievements, when as a Red Cross nurse she succored the wounded under fire, and never a word on current questions of supreme import to her dynasty. International politics are, of course, no concern of a constitutional monarch's consort. Nevertheless, a shrewd old cynic of a Washington correspondent observed thoughtfully as he left the Ritz:

"That fascinating lady is one of the slickest lobbyists I ever met."

His statement seemed palpably absurd. Had it not been officially announced that the Queen's presence in Paris was wholly without political significance? Traveling in strictest incognito, Her Majesty and their royal highnesses the Princesses Elizabeth, Marianna and Ileana were simply passing through the city on their way to visit the British royal family, of which Queen Marie is by birth a member. While in Paris they would see a few friends and do some shopping. Voila tout!

The Queen's "few friends" were, it appeared, rather numerous. Within forty-eight hours after her arrival Marie had talked with everybody who is anybody in Paris. Disregarding the conventions, as a royalty who is also a beautiful woman can safely afford to do, she called upon Premier Clemenceau at the Ministry of War, and chatted with him for full three-quarters of an hour.

"And I only gave Foch twenty minutes," the Tiger chuckled afterward.

The Marshal, by the way, spent a whole hour in tete-a-tete with Her Majesty. Later she lunched at the Elysee with President and Madame Poincare, had a long talk with M. Andre Tardieu—Chairman of the Conference Commission on Rumanian claims—and met American and British plenipotentiaries at dinner at the Rumanian Legation.

In her picturesque little book "My Country," Queen Marie quotes the last words of a mortally wounded Rumanian soldier who died in her arms. "God protect you," he murmured, "and let you reign one day over all the Rumanians."

This phrase suddenly became a household word in Paris. It refers, of course, to Rumania's aspirations, the extension of her boundaries so as to include within the present kingdom the Rumanian populations of Transylvania, Bessarabia and the Banat of Temesvar.

It was a bit curious that three days after the exquisite Marie had begun to bewitch the Paris populace, M. Vesnitch, one of Servia's envoys, should have raised his voice in fiery protest against the "undue preference given the claims of Rumania" by the Tardieu Commission. In a public statement, M. Vesnitch complained that a tendency had arisen to favor Rumania far beyond her just deserts, to the detriment of the legitimate demands of the Serbs. What had caused the afore-mentioned tendency the Servian statesman did not say.

Could it possibly have been Queen Marie?

Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

Hall's Distemper (Registered Trade Mark.)

is a unique preparation and has the recommendation of leading sanitary authorities, architects, and decorators everywhere.

Missing Arctic Stores

A story of sufferings in the Arctic was related at Portsmouth Police Court on April 15, telegraphs the London Daily Chronicle correspondent, when Lieut. Walter Thomas Ryan, O.B.E., R.N.R., and Thomas Eynon Bailey, skipper, R.N.R., late H.M.S. Rinto, were charged with removing from a wreck certain stores and converting them to their own use.

It was stated that in the winter of 1917-18 the steamship Glodale, on a time charter to the Hudson Bay Company, in very rough weather lost her rudder in the vicinity of Crogan Point, Lapland, and ultimately became a total wreck.

Several tugs were near, and it was alleged that Ryan, in command, and Bailey, the skipper of one of the tugs, removed a quantity of stores from the wreck and sold them in Portsmouth for £67.

Ryan stated that the back of the Glodale was broken, and most of the goods were recovered from the water by grapnels. The vessel was overrun by Laplanders.

In the awful weather before the wreck 14 of the crew were affected by frostbite, and were got ashore by lifelines.

The Bench found the case proved, but, having regard to the character and services of defendants, dismissed the case on payment of £5 costs.

Censors Ancient And Modern; Parson Who Censored Milton

(From London Daily Graphic)

There is today a general feeling against the further existence of Control, or Controllers, and especially of Comptrollers; and so it is only natural that the announcement of the passing of the Press Censor should be received without a sigh. Indeed, the general feeling is in favor of speeding the parting guest.

Directly a man is given the power of censorship he feels he must justify his position by censoring or suppressing something or other, and it matters little what it is. He finds that someone wishes to publish a statement, and decides that the statement must not be published because he has the power to come to such a decision. This is the invariable official attitude distinguishng every jack-in-office there is.

At one time it was actually contended that an ordinary policeman might decide not only that something published was treasonable or seditious, but that he thought it might be treasonable or seditious, and in that case he could suppress it.

As a rule, however, these decisions were left to what were called "competent naval or military authorities." The use of the word "competent" in that phrase implies a recognition that some naval or military authorities are incompetent. They were all brave men, but bravery is not the only quality needed in Press Bureau work. The French recognised that the Duke of Wellington talked their language with courage, but it sadly lacked accuracy, and while there has been no lack of pluck in the conduct of press censorship there have been occasions where intelligence has been less apparent.

I am of opinion that a book could be written on the vagaries of press censors in this country. Perhaps the most memorable in connection with such performances has to do with Milton's "Paradise Lost," which was itself nearly lost. Before that work could appear it had to be submitted to a censor, one Rev. Thomas Tomkins, a worthy City rector. One may sympathise with good Tomkins in having to read right through an epic in blank verse, and in twelve books by a Puritan who had been officially connected with Cromwell.

But, like modern censors, Tomkins was brave and he set to work. Before he had tackled more than 200 lines he was startled, for he came across a famous passage in which the poet describes the fallen archangel as surrounded by "glory obscured," a dim eclipse, or disastrous twilight, such as perplexes monarchs. There can be no doubt that when poor Tomkins read those lines he had not the faintest notion as to what Milton was driving at, but when this Puritan and Commonwealth man wrote about monarchs being perplexed, the City rector thought naturally enough that the defense of the realm called for some official interference and suppression. For a time the publication of the poem was in danger, but somehow or other the Rev. Thomas Tomkins relented, and the poem was allowed to appear, nor did any national disaster ensue.

Tomkins is a type, and there have been many Tomkinses at work in recent years—brave fellows, boys of the bulldog breed, men of the no-surrender sort. But if some of them had been confronted by the old question, "Understandest though what though readest?" the man thus questioned, assuming him to be candid, would have to reply, "The answer is in the negative." In any case the press will gain, and the public will not suffer, by the disappearance of these Jacks-in-office, who were not really needed, and who again and again made the phrase "competent authorities" appear to be used in jest rather than in earnest.

Teeth And The Stomach

By Brice Belden, M. D.

Ulcers of the stomach are common enough, but one occasionally wonders why there are not more of them, considering some of the dietetic habits of the American people.

Ulcers of the stomach or duodenum (the first part of the small intestine) are believed to be due to the action of the digestive juices upon areas of local malnutrition. The cause of the malnutrition is frequently obscure, but bacterial infection derived from diseased teeth is believed now by many to account for it.

These ulcers usually involve both the mucous membrane and the deeper structures, and cause pain, tenderness, excessive acidity, the raising of blood, vomiting, etc. Sometimes they perforate, which causes very acute symptoms and necessitates prompt operation.

This condition is more common in women than in men. Most cases occur between the ages of twenty and forty. Anemia seems to predispose to it.

The outlook as regards cure is favorable in recent cases. Rest and appropriate diet come first in the management. For the first two or three weeks the patient should remain in bed. In severe cases it is best to withhold food from the stomach for a few days.

After the pain has abated the diet should consist of milk, buttermilk, beef juice, animal broths and egg-white.

If the patient does well the symptoms may disappear in three or four weeks, after which he may be allowed soft-boiled eggs, scraped beef, boiled sweetbreads, the tender part of oyster, the white meat of chicken, well made gruel and custard pudding.

Certain drugs are skilfully and effectively used by physicians in the treatment of gastric and duodenal ulceration.

Unless the teeth are put in perfect order not much need be expected in the way of improvement.

Moral: Take care of your teeth before you get an internal ulcer.

The Ugly Man

President Wilson's favorite limerick is brought to mind by the following tale from the Orient:

Timur-lenk, the Tartar invader, was very ugly and, catching a glimpse of himself in a mirror, he burst into tears. The court jester began weeping also and kept it up long after the master had stopped.

Timur looked at him in astonishment. "I wept with reason," he said, "at beholding my own ugliness—I, the lord of so many lands. But I do not understand why you should thus despair."

"If you, my lord," replied the jester, "wept for two hours after seeing yourself in the mirror for an instant, is it not natural that I, who see you all day long, should weep longer than you?"

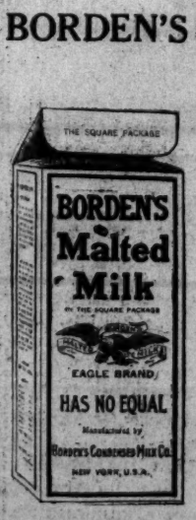
BORDEN'S MALTED MILK is a complete food, not a milk modifier.
It can't sour; no germs can touch it.



In Borden's Malted Milk you get milk from healthy cows, purified, free from germs; the calf needs are modified—the baby needs are added. Reduced to a powder, it comes to you in an air-tight bottle, no hand has touched it. It is a complete food, so you add only water and boil one minute, and you can know that you are giving your baby the food his little body needs.

U.S. Red Cross Doings In Siberia

Vladivostok, June 1.—Orders have been given by the executive committee of the Siberian Commission to open a large hospital at Irkutsk. A three-story brick building has been secured through the co-operation of the local Irkutsk Russian authorities and 100 beds will be installed at once. Most of the equipment will be sent from Vladivostok on the relief train leaving for the west June 3. Part has already been sent from Harbin. There are about 5,000 Russian soldiers at Irkutsk and a large number of Czechs. The Russian military hospital is crowded to capacity, having 1,000 patients the first part of June. The American Red Cross hospital will not only relieve the hospital situation but will be a center of drug and medicine distribution for Russian hospitals of the district.

Capt. Rudolph Bukeley, financial manager and during the last two months director of the Allied Anti-Typhus, Expedition which is handled by the American Red Cross, has completed six months' service in Siberia and is returning to his home in Honolulu. Capt. Bukeley has just arrived in Vladivostok with enthusiastic reports of the success of the anti-typhus expedition. Lieut. Connor of the Philippines Chapter has been left in charge of the train, which is expected soon to start from Omsk and enter another anti-typhus campaign. Its principal activity has been at Novonicolaievsk, Kurgan, Chelyabinsk and Omsk.

The American Red Cross headquarters at Vladivostok has received a telegram from the chief of the provincial sanitary commission of the province of Perm, appealing for immediate assistance in combating an epidemic of typhus, recurrent fever and abdominal typhoid which is raging in that section, though from other sections of western Siberia and eastern Russia news comes that typhus is on the decrease.

Memorial Day, May 30, was commemorated by the American army, the navy, the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. and other American organisations at a joint service arranged by the Red Cross and the Y.M.C.A. in the latter's big building on Vladivostok waterfront called "The Hut." The services were held in commemoration of soldiers, sailors and marine corps men who have died for their country. In the morning the graves of American soldiers and sailors in Vladivostok cemetery were decorated and later the military and relief organisations gathered in "The Hut" for patriotic talks and music. Brief addresses were given by Major-General W. S. Graves, commanding the American Expeditionary Force; Capt. W. C. Watts, commanding the cruiser Albany, Chaplain Joseph S. Loughran of the 31st Infantry, American Consul J. K. Caldwell presided. High officials and dignitaries representing all the Allied Powers associated with the United States in the war and in the Siberian situation were present.

Szechuen News Notes

(China Press Correspondence)

Chengtu, Szechuen, May 28.—On Sunday the Chengtu students had a mass meeting in the public park to protest against the Japanese receiving Shantung. Between six and seven thousand assembled. If all that was said could have been dinned into the ears of those who have been selling their country to Japan it might act as a preventitive to such traitors in the future. Anyway we know now what the Szechuanese think both of them and of the Japanese. Hatred the latter is exceedingly intense. They distrust Japan's motives and think she is only biding her time to announce her predominant hold over China and bid Europe and America know that the Far East is entirely her own preserves.

While the students are sincerely and earnestly protesting, the Southern faction are said to be guiding the movement to raise enmity against the North as if all Northerners were traitors and they alone were patriotic. If so, this is one of the despicable traits in all party politics.

This week about 50 students are leaving for France. The Government pays the traveling expenses of the majority, the others have borrowed a certain sum from public funds which they pledge themselves to repay. In France they are to receive positions and work their way through college. They will be under the supervision of the French Government, or rather French officials will take a kindly interest in them while they pursue their studies.

The chief of the Foreign Office is being changed at last. Appointed before the North lost power in Szechuen he succeeded in keeping his position after the South came and has been in office for over two years. Lately an intrigue was set on foot against him and Canton was asked to appoint a "Southerner" in his place. This they have done. A French speaking Chinese now takes his place. On June 2 he assumes office by giving a feast to the Chengtu newspaper men. Such an action means he wants to keep on good terms with our city publicists.

The price of opium has fallen to $3 per ounce at the border. Two years ago it was $8. Facts are "chiels that winna ding" and here is one for the immaculate Southern leader. This stains their record badly. The world applauds their democratic sentiments, avows its sympathy for all struggling for right and liberty but can not allow the enslaving of men and women to such a drug. The men who are responsible for the vast increase in our Szechuen opium traffic should be publicly banned from office and from society.

British Chamber Of Commerce Journal

The second issue of the British Chamber of Commerce Journal at least meets and probably surpasses that of the first number. There is in it a vast amount of interesting reading for American as well as British business men, and for others than business men. There is a keen discussion of the problem of Japanese competition in the Far East. This is an eminently fair treatment of a problem that has been turned green by much spleen and sheer nonsense, and its very fairness gives it added weight. Incidentally there are given cases of unfair infringements of copyrights by Japanese traders. There is also a summary of the work of the language school of the Chamber of Commerce. The results obtained by this school point the way significently to other commercial bodies in Shanghai. The future of the port of Tsingtau is the subject of another long article. In addition there are valuable analyses of trade figures, meaty tables and routine trade news.

Pershing Visits Men Leaving For America

(American Press Wireless)

Brest, June 6 (by American wireless).—General Pershing, who arrived at Brest on Wednesday, inspected the camp at Pantangen, where seventy thousand men are waiting their turn to embark for the United States. The Commander-in-Chief also went to the American cemetery and inspected several of the funeral services. He left Brest on Wednesday night.

Shantung City Joins Japanese Boycott

(China Press Correspondence)

Pingtu, Shantung, June 3.—Pingtu is thoroughly stirred up over the decision of the Peace Conference in regard to Tsingtau. Yesterday, at the Chamber of Commerce, all of the business men and students of the city gathered and spent the whole afternoon in an Anti-Japanese meeting. Enthusiasm was at a high pitch. The speakers were frequently interrupted with loud cheers. After speeches by five of the chief men of the city, they all voted unanimously to buy no more Japanese goods, and not to ride on the trains controlled by the Japanese. They said, "Hereafter no Chinese shall ride on the train. If the train runs there will be only Japanese passengers." The city has never been so stirred up over anything. Handbills were distributed every place and the watchword of the meeting was "Look at Korea!" "We will not let them make a second Korea of us!" was the cry on all sides. Japanese money will not be received. Formerly, one could only sell Tsingtau money on the street, because no one wanted any other kind. All business was done through Tsingtau. Now the bottom has dropped out of the money market. No one wants it any longer.
